Accommodation

A range of accommodation options is available in central Tokyo, particularly along the Tokyo Metro Marunouchi Line and JR Yamanote Line, which provide convenient access to the Tokyo National Research Institute for Cultural Properties. The conference venue is most easily reached from Ueno Station or Uguisudani Station on the JR Yamanote Line, and Tokyo Station is also conveniently located for access to the venue.

For this reason, participants are encouraged to consider accommodation near other stations on the JR Yamanote Line or Tokyo Metro Marunouchi Line. In particular, areas around stations between Ueno – Tokyo – Shinjuku are especially practical for conference participants. These areas are well connected by public transport and offer a wide selection of hotels at various price ranges, including business hotels with multiple locations.
